ABOUT US

Sardar Vallabhbhai National Institute of Technology, Surat (NIT Surat), perceives to be a globally accepted centre of excellence in technical education catalysing the transfer of high technologies resulting in enhanced quality.

ACM NIT Surat is a student chapter highly focused on planning and organising events for coding, development, design, etc. Founded in 2005, the chapter has been a centre for various learning, fun, and productive activities. Be it coding challenges, hackathons, quizzes, or application development, the chapter's activities are widely acknowledged in the institute and keenly looked for.

PURPOSE OF DOTSLASH

DOTSLASH - root to ideas is a venture by Research Park and students of NIT Surat which aims at encouraging young and enthusiastic minds to code, create and develop unique and eccentric solutions to real life problems.

DOTSLASH is an event which would provide an environment to the developers where they can test their skills, know their true potential and contribute to the society by developing out of the box solutions

DOTSLASH is conducted at the SVNIT campus where students from all over India gather to innovate and bring their ideas to life. Every year, in January, SVNIT witnesses developers come together to design and create unique solutions to problem statements.

CO-ORGANIZERS-ACM NITSURAT

The Association for Computing Machinery, "ACM", is an International Learned Society for Computing. ACM NIT-SURAT is one of its student chapters that is operated by the students of NIT Surat. We follow the legacy of unity and consistency to chase success and aim to up-skill the tech community and nurture the coding culture, by organizing numerous coding contests, hackathons, hands-on workshops, etc.

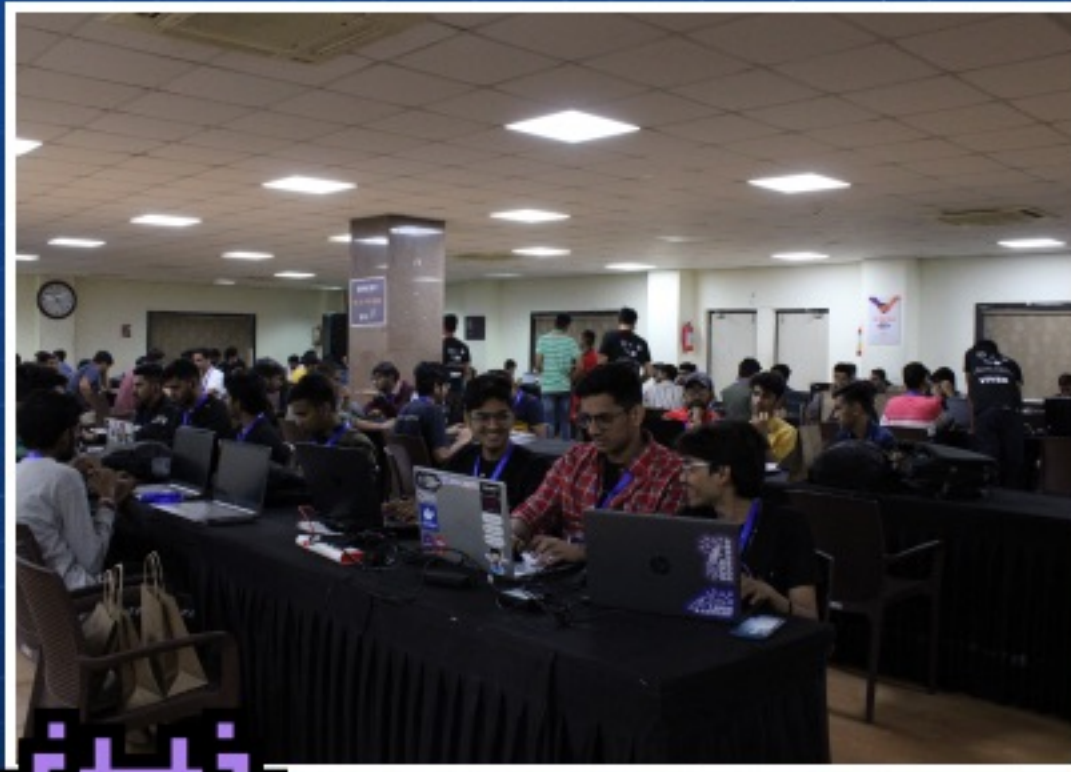

The Core team of ACM NIT-SURAT comprises the organizing committee of the hackathon "DotSlash" and serves the participants in the most efficient way possible. We take immense pleasure in announcing that we've successfully organized this Hackathon for 6 years now.
